

Rank	Question	Rating
	How much flight time should I expect for the average lesson? How much ground time?
	Do you teach your students to control airspeed with pitch or power? Why?
	Who do you use for the flight check when I am ready?
	How much flight time/instruction time do you expect me to need overall? Why?
	What is the total cost of the flight training for the average student? For me? Why the difference? Can you break it down?
	What options do you provide for separate ground study?
	Are there any ways in which I can save money?

Rank	Question	Rating
	How often do you recommend I fly? Why?
	How many hours experience do you have teaching in small aircraft? Over how many years? Can I see your logbook?
	Where do you do your night training flights? Why?
	What training aids do you employ/recommend as part of your curriculum?
	Can you give me a mini ground lesson now? I don't get it. (even if you do) What do you mean?
	Do you use a syllabus to keep track of your students' progress? Can I view some currently in use and already completed?
	How many students have you trained for this rating? How many have completed the training?

Rank	Question	Rating
	What do your students score on the written test? Do you provide objective written testing of study material?
	Do you provide stage checks with another instructor? At what levels? With whom?
	What do you charge for flight instruction? Ground instruction? How do you calculate instruction time?
	Where do you do your cross-country flight training flights? Why? How many? Why?
	What is your first time pass/fail rate for this rating? Overall?
	I understand that all experienced instructors have had students who have failed a check-ride Why have yours?
	What are your goals in terms of your future flying career? When do you expect to be ready to take the next step?

Rank	Question	Rating
	Is this your career or do you instruct on the side? Let's Fly
	What is your availability? Your current student load? San Diego	